I

The Provisional Polish Government of National Unity and the Provisional Government of Democratic Federative Yugoslavia, sincerely desiring to develop economic relations between the two countries, have agreed to conclude in the near future a trade agreement to govern their reciprocal trade until the end of 1946.

II

The Provisional Polish Government of National Unity is prepared, during the validity of the agreement mentioned in article I, to authorize the export of the goods listed in annex 1.

The Provisional Government of Democratic Federative Yugoslavia is prepared, during the validity of the agreement mentioned in article I, to authorize the export of the goods listed in annex 2.

Both lists may be extended during the negotiations by agreement between the two Parties.

Each Government also undertakes to authorize the import of the said goods from the other country.

The general principles of the agreement, and prices, shall be fixed by negotiation. Prices shall be free at frontier of the exporting country. The two Contracting Parties agree that under the proposed agreement imports into Poland shall, pending the conclusion of a transit agreement between Poland and Czechoslovakia, be paid for by Poland to Yugoslavia free at the Polish frontier. Yugoslavia's liability in respect of the transit costs of such goods shall, in the account prescribed in the proposed agreement, be based on the costs actually incurred.
